

What are the most rented family films?

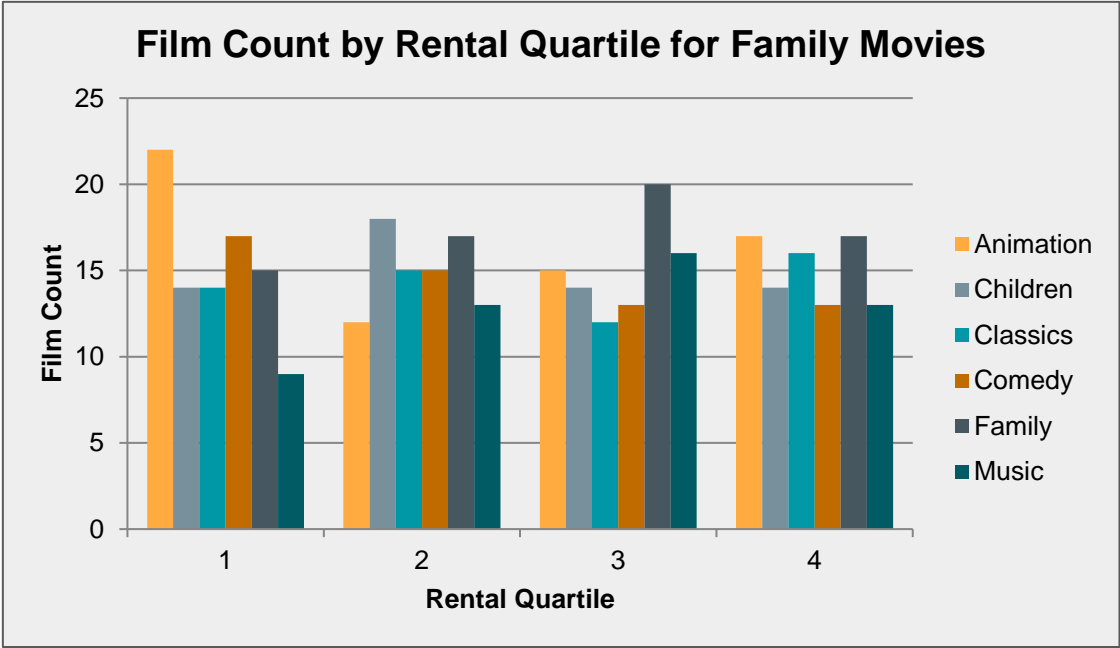

The chart the distribution of rentals between different films and the number of times they rent, highlighting families' preferences for some films more than others. Films with the highest number of rentals indicate their appeal and popularity among families.

What is the most common time category for renting family films?

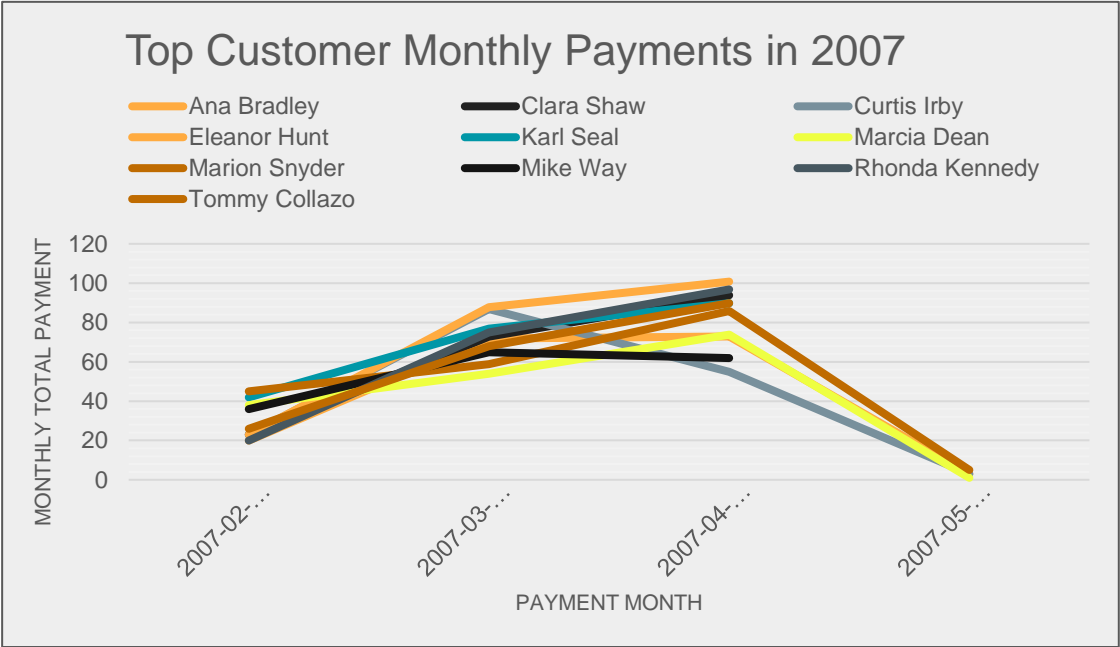

The chart focuses on determining which of the time categories (first quarter, second quarter, etc.) in which the largest number of family films are rented, this reflects tenants' time preferences when renting family films, it can be seen that the category with the largest number of rental films is (first quarter) indicating that it is the most common category for renting family films.

How are family films distributed across different rental quartiles?

The chart the distribution of family films across the different quarters of time to rent them. Each column shows the number of films in a particular category and how they are distributed across four quarters of the number of rentals, and shows how movies are distributed within each category across these quarters.

How did the top 10 customers' payments vary by month in 2007?

The outline shows which customers had consistent payment patterns and which saw marked changes throughout the year. It also shows the impact of different months on the total monthly payments per customer.